Resources for understanding and conversation on racial equity and reconciliation

Self-Guided Test
The Implicit Association Test (IAT) was developed to assess and provide feedback about attitudes and beliefs. Participants will not be required to report the outcome of their tests, but the experience of reflecting on bias in the area of at least race and gender will support the process of self-reflection and awareness. http://bit.ly/fcimplicitbias

Videos

Movies
Race: The Power of an Illusion - PBS Special produced by California Newsreel
Found in local libraries and can be rented online at a variety of places - http://bit.ly/fcpowerofillusion

Books
Power, Privilege, and Difference (Johnson, 2006)
Whistling Vivaldi: How Stereotypes Affect us and what we can do about it (Steele, 2010)
Post Traumatic Slave Syndrome (Degrui, 2005)
Why are all the Black Kids Sitting Together in the Cafeteria? (Tatum, 2003)
What if all the Kids are White? (Derman-Sparks & Ramsey, 2011)
Lies my Teacher Told Me (Loewen, 1995)
Deculturalization and the Struggle for Equality (Spring, 2013)

Other Resource Guides